COMMENT NO. 1

1. (U) Reference Dossier #GE-011806, Subject [REDACTED]

2. (C) [REDACTED] was incarcerated during September 1957, as a direct result of information obtained from her during the course of an interrogation conducted by this Region. During the course of the interrogation, [REDACTED] was of the opinion that she would receive a sentence from three to five years for her activities in attempting to defect US Army personnel to the East Zone. This office learned through its liaison contacts that the maximum sentence she would receive would be approximately one year confinement. Hence, this fact was used as a bargaining point to extract a confession from [REDACTED]. She appeared to be extremely grateful to CIC because she was of the opinion that because she told the truth concerning her activities, CIC had interceded in getting her sentence reduced.

3 (U) [REDACTED] was discharged from prison on 14 October 1958. It is interesting to note that [REDACTED] voluntarily contacted this Region upon her release. It is felt that she had two purposes in mind when contacting this Region:

a. An expression of gratitude for having had her sentence reduced to one year.

b. To solicit information as to the whereabouts of her husband, [REDACTED], dossier #E2-006744, and her mother who resides in the vicinity of Bautzen, East Germany.

4. (C) It is considered important that the whereabouts of [REDACTED] is known at all times. First, because of her mission; and secondly, because she, in all probability, will legally or illegally attempt to contact her husband and mother. When this happens, Region IV stands to benefit from any information which she may obtain.

5. (C) [REDACTED] appears to be friendly, cooperative, and fearful of returning to prison. She is of the opinion that should she continue her mission and come to the attention of CIC in unfavorable circumstances, she would again be incarcerated.

6. (C) Plans for development of [REDACTED] are to continue periodic contacts with her to obtain any information concerning above SUBJECT, and to maintain CIS coverage.
